The best solution in your baking industry!

ADVISORY Sp. z o.o. is a dynamically developing and innovative business which operates on the wholesale grain and baking additives market. Extensive experience and knowledge of the market resulted in a dynamic growth of the company in the last few years. We are a direct importer and distributor of high-quality products which meet our customers' expectations.

The company has adopted a consistent trade policy centred around meeting customers' expectations and providing excellent products of unique nutritional value. We make every effort in order for our products to come from verified sources. ADVISORY Sp. z o.o. cooperates with selected Polish and foreign suppliers, including among others: Czech Republic, Russia, Kazakhstan, China, India, Pakistan, United States, Hungary and Bulgaria. Our quality management division closely monitors every product that leaves the facility.

Our continuous development and expansion of the range of products established our company on the market of grains and baking additives. The most important products on offer include among others: blue poppy seed, white poppy seed, brown and golden linseed, sunflower kernels, pumpkin kernels and sesame seeds. Nuts and dried fruit have been in our range of products since 2011. A competitive advantage of our offer is provided by direct import of most of the goods we sell. Our investment in an innovative technological line for cleaning, sorting and packaging grains guarantees product quality and enables us to offer attractive prices. Goods are delivered by the company's state-of-the-art transport fleet.

Our core customers include companies from the baking and confectionery industry. However, diversifying our offer enabled to acquire customers from the oil production, medical and pharmaceutical sectors. Our products are delivered to the markets of Poland, Western, Central and Eastern Europe and Russia.

We are looking forward to cooperating with you.
